High School Students—1600 Strong Visit Campus Today And Tomorrow

By VIRGINIA SNODGRASS

More than 1,600 high school students and teachers will be on campus this weekend attending clinics and vocational meetings. These meetings will be sponsored by the School of Home Economics, the School of Journalism, the Department of Ancient Languages and the Department

The Department of Chemistry expects about 200 science teachers and students from all sections of Kentucky to participate in their fifth annual high school Chemistry

As a climax to "Career Week" more than 400 high school girls will be visiting the Department of Home Economics today.

The School of Journalism opens its doors today to more than 300 teachers and students who will take part in the annual High School Press Association publications

The seventh annual convention of Latin Clubs and Latin students will be held Saturday at Memorial Hall. Dr. Jonah Skiles, head of the Department of Ancient Languages and Literatures, said that about 700 students from over 20 schools are expected to attend. A campus tour will be conducted by Boyd Kennan. Another highlight of the clinic will be the open houses held by the Kernel Press, located on the ground floor of the Journalism Building, and by Radio Station WBKY. located on the fourth floor of McVey Hall.

Contests in spelling, vocabulary, current events, and journalistic techniques will be held. The Lexington Herald-Leader will award a total of $75 in cash prizes.

The best in high school photography will be featured by Dr. William Moore in Room 211 of the Journalism Building. This display will contain the winning photos in a recent national contest.

Latin students will meet Saturday for the seventh annual convention. Mary Wood Brown, Henry Clay High School, will be in charge of the meeting. She is the Junior Classical League chairman of Kentucky.

The program will include discussion groups, plays, and skits. There will be an exhibit of posters, pictures, and models in the Home Economics Building.

Although the erection of a medical school is still in the planning stage, all possible steps are being taken by University officials to insure immediate action if the proposed appropriation for the school is approved by the Kentucky General Assembly. This appropriation will in all probability be voted on within the next month by the Assembly.

Among Dr. Lippard's proposed recommendations were:

(1) That the medical school be located as close to the heart of the campus as possible. Dr. Lippard expressed the opinion, "the closer the integration, the more all colleges of the University will be strengthened."

(2) That medical students not be housed in separate dormitories. The ideal situation, Dr. Lippard February 1957 and three until Sep- said, would be to have these medical students live with "more mature students," such as those enrolled in Graduate School or the College of Law.

(3) That members of the medimendation of the Judiciary Com- cal school faculty also be members (Continued on Page 11)

Ag Banquet To Be Held On April 5

The annual Agriculture Banquet will be held Thursday, April 5, in the Ballroom of the Student Union Building at 6 p.m. This banquet is one of the highlights of the year for all Agriculture and Home Economics students.

As part of the program the judging teams will be introduced, the different agriculture and home economics organizations will make their awards, scholarship receivers will be announced, and outstanding students will be recognized.

The deans of the Southern agriculture colleges will be present at the banquet as the guests of the University. They will be on campus for their annual spring meeting, April 5-7.

The speaker for the evening will be Penrose Ecton of the Ecton Supply Company on North Limestone Street. Eceton is a graduate of the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture.

Free tickets will be available for freshmen and sophomore students the week of March 26 in the Agriculture and Home Economics Buildings.

THE KENTUCKY KERNEL, Friday, March 23, 1956-

HOW TO BE A THUMPING BIG SUCCESS A ON CAMPUS

While up in the attic last week hiding from a bill collector I came across a letter, yellow now with age, that dear old Dad had sent me when I was a freshman. I read the letter again and recalled, with many a sigh and not a few tears, what an inspiration it had been to me back in my freshman days. I reproduce it below in the hope that it may light your way as it did mine.

"Dear Son, (Dad always called me Son. This was short for Sonnenberg, which was originally my first name. I later traded it with a man named Max. He threw in two outfielders and a lefthanded pitcher...But I digress.)

"Dear Son, (Dad wrote)

"I suppose you are finding college very big and bewildering, and maybe a little frightening too. Well, it need not be that way if you will follow a few simple rules.

"First of all, if you have any problems, take them to your teachers. They want to help you. That's what they are there for. Perhaps they do seem rather aloof and forbidding, but that is only because they are so busy. You will find your teachers warm as toast and friendly as pups if you will call on them at an hour when they are not overly busy. Four a.m., for instance.

"Second, learn to budget your time. What with classes, activities, studying, and social life all competing for your time, it is easy to fall into sloppy habits. You must set up a rigid schedule and stick to it. Remember, there are only 24 hours in a day. Three of these hours are spent in class. For every hour in class, you must, of course, spend two hours studying. So there go six more hours. Then, as everyone knows, for every hour of studying, you must spend two hours sleeping. That accounts for another twelve hours. Then there are meals-two hours each for breakfast and lunch, three hours for dinner. Never forget, Sonnenberg, you must chew each mouthful 288 times. You show me a backward student, and I'll show you a man who bolts his food.

"But college is more than just sleeping, eating, and studying. There are also many interesting and broadening activities, and you would be cheating yourself if you neglected them. You'll want to give at least an hour a day to the campus newspaper and yearbook, and, of course, another hour each to the dramatic and music clubs. And let's say a total of three hours daily to the stamp club, the foreign affairs club, and the debating society. Then, of course, a couple of hours for fencing and bird-walking, a couple more for square dancing and basket weaving, and one or two for cribbage and ice-sculpturing.

"Finally, we come to the most important part of each day-what I call 'The Quiet Time.' This is a period in which you renew yourself-just relax and think green thoughts and smoke Philip Morris Cigarettes.

"Why Philip Morris? because they are the natural complement to an active life; they are gentle, they are benign, they are tranquil, they are a treat to the tired, a boon to the spent, a haven to the storm-tossed. That's why.

"Well, Sonnenberg, I guess that's about all. Your mother sends her love. She has just finished putting up rather a large batch of pickles-in fact, 350,000 jars. I told her that with you away at school, we would not need so many, but lovable old Mother is such a creature of habit that though I hit her quite hard several times, she insisted on going ahead.

Your ever lovin'

Dad." @Max Shulman, 1956

Advice to freshmen is not the business of the makers of Philip Morris, sponsors of this column. But cigarettes for freshmen is. Also cigarettes for upperclassmen, graduate students, profs, deans, and everybody else who enjoys a gentle, modern smoke. We mean Philip Morris, of corris!

this year." Stars In The Night—Ugh!

If the "stars" in "Stars in the Night" refer to the coeds receiving awards at this annual ceremony, the event is indeed well-namedbecause a whole universe of women get some type of "honor" at it.

No doubt UK produces scores of meritorious young women who deserve recognition. There is no contention on this point. But it is highly doubtful as to whether or not there are over a hundred such coeds who deserve a special night of high honor.

"Stars in the Night" each year has become more and more like a gala give-away show. As one student put it, "During 'Stars in the Night' girls named to get an award go to Memorial Hall; the other five girls left on campus go to the movies."

This program seems even more ridiculous when one considers that UK has an Honors Day program each year, for both men and women. In almost all cases, the woman honored at "Stars in the Night" is recognized again at the Honors Day program in late Spring.

The really significant accomplishments are minimized at the "Stars in the Night" program by the endless assortment of petty awards, tappings, and certificates. Some of the honor groups, hoping to gain the limelight at this event, stage pathetic attempts of ritualism.

Virtually nobody is impressed.

There seems to be no hope of doing away with the long array of dubious "honors" bestowed at this program, simply because no group will admit that its award is not significant. Each year there seem to be more, and "Stars in the Night" grows more stagnant.

The obvious-and best-solution is to do away with this unneeded night of pomp and circumstances for women only. The Honors Day program should be the one, big night of appropriate University recognition.

One wonders if Will Shakespeare had "Stars in the Night" in mind when he wrote "Much Ado About Nothing."

Mediocre Drama

For the first time in several years Guignol has staged a good production. Their version of Shakespeare's "Taming of the Shrew" is spiritedly acted and ably directed.

A good play in Guignol is the exception rather than the rule. Despite a magnificent physical plant and a practically unlimited expense account, Guignol has consistently given students mediocre plays.

The only good college theatre in Lexington has been at Transylvania College. Transy, operating with the minimum of equipment and money, has created excellent drama. Their production of T. S. Eliot's "Cocktail Party" last fall was the finest college play done in Lexington in four years.

Guignol's plays have been uninspiring to say the least. As a result the students have stayed away in droves.

Many of the plays at UK have tended to be rather abstract. Some unusual plays should be produced, but students get tired of talking animals and bizarre symbolism. A play can expound great truths and still stay within the bounds of realism.

Some Guignol players condemn the average UK student as "uncultured". This can be at least partially disapproved. Campus Cinema has brought excellent art movies to the University, and the students have heartily supported Campus Cinema. It would not be an exaggeration to say that students will back any top-notch campus activity.

Guignol is on the right track now. It would be a shame to see it fall back in same old mediocre rut.

Pan-Hell and IFC

At least twice this year there has been considerable confusion between the Interfraternity Council, Panhellenic, and the persons these groups represent.

There was the miner problem of who were participating in the fall Fire Prevention Week display contest, and there was the much-debated serenade issue. Joint action between IFC and Pan-Hell could have saved a lot of time and misunderstanding.

As it is now, it is highly difficult for the two Greek representative bodies to consult together. An IFC delegate naturally feels out of place at a Pan-Hell meeting, and vice

It would be much easier for these two groups to have joint meetings of several delegates, and these meetings, if held more or less regularly (say once a month), could benefit all concerned. There need not be more than five members from each organiza-

King Kelly'

In last week's Kernel they took a look at "King Kelly" Coleman. They said he failed the first round Wednesday night although he netted 50 points. Well it appears to me that the fact that he wasn't hitting as good as he usually does but he still got 50 points is still something remarkable. I disagree with the sports editor when he says Kelly is only a fair rebounder. In the game against Earlington, with their 6'7" center, Todd, doing great work for them, Kelly out-rebounded him all through the game. The editor also said that Wayland was all Coleman. I also disagree on that statement too. If Coleman was all that Wayland had they would never have gotten out of the Regional Tournament at Pikeville.

So Rupp's horses didn't agree on Coleman as Rupp did himself. They said he wasn't any good on defense. So what, he has his own defense in his scoring ability. When Rupp says he is great I think he knows what he is talking about and what he wants. I agree with Rupp in his statement that "Coleman is the greatest ballplayer to ever come out of Kentucky in high school playing. I guarded this boy last year myself and if you don't believe he's tough you should try guarding him yourself

I think Coleman might be a little overrated in some respects, but that isn't his fault. The newspapers were the one's that gave him the big build-up. Like his coach said, "he didn't see how anyone could judge him in the two first games he played in here when he saw him play forty games this year. I think it was natural that Kelly didn't show too good in the first three games because of the great pressure which was on him in this tournament and the fact that everybody expected him to be great because of his great build-up.

After Saturday night's game, in which he set a record I don't think anyone will come close to for awhile, I don't see how anyone could disagree on his great ballplaying. If that wasn't enough for the fans who saw the game, then I think they expected something supernatural of a seventeen year old boy to do.

By the looks of the U.K.-Iowa score, U.K. sure could use some of Kelly Coleman's points. Also the one coach out of the sixteen who didn't pick Kelly as the unanimous choice for allstate selections, really "goofed"!

Weak?

Dear Sir:

Who among the students holds a position of importance in the University? Have you ever noticed that, while quite a fuss is made over moves by student bodies, these moves seem to mostly concern the University social life? SGA has been given a few matters to pacify it, such as parking permits and control over drinking. I say pacify because, have you ever noticed the police at both the University driveways and the student dorms.

Of course, realizing that the University has men to control the matter of business, and deans to run each of the colleges, there would seem to be no question of what the University should run itself. And, frankly, maybe it should. Using student government means a carefully selected group to run almost all the disciplinary matters and some few of the scholastic ones in colleges. Either let the salaried employees run the University, or give something, some duties to our weak SGA. A good university, like we claim ourselves to be, would have no use for a student government which was merely a front.

Clarence L. Lebus

Dean M. M. White, of the College of Arts and Sciences, remarked about an all-too-familiar situation: "If a UK graduate is highly honored, mention of the institution he attended is ob scure or seldom given. I can assure you that were he sent to the penitentiary, UK would be prominently mentioned."

Culture and education, even in 1956, still may not be purchased in cartons or containers. Work is still the only means to obtain these items.

The professors and the book store should find some way of coordinating book orders with the number of students enrolled in classes. With the semester well underway some students still haven't been able to buy books for their courses. The book store says it's the profs fault, and the instructors blame it on the book store. The deans should establish some kind of policy on this matter. The students are caught in the middle. The teachers assign huge daily readings, and the book store laughs at them.

UK students contributed nearly $1,400 to the Christmas Seal drive last December. This is particularly gratifying since the need is greater in Kentucky than most other states. Kentucky's TB rate is unusually high.

Boom!

The camera could have lied this time, but I thought the story said they had removed it from the city dump.

Cafeteria Spud Peelers Average 400 lbs A Day

By JOYCE ADAMS Kernel Spud Editor

How would you like to peel 400 pounds of potatoes a day? Probably you will never have to. However, that might be one of your jobs if you worked in the Student Union cafeteria.

John K. Barnes, cafeteria director, says he has to buy for one meal two cases of green beans, 100 pounds of roast beef, 115 pounds of cube steak, 70 pounds of broccoli, and 60 pounds of lima beans. If you had strawberry shortcake for dessert, it would take 60 pounds of frozen strawberries.

It's no wonder such an enormous for use in the Student Union cafeday. From 600 to 700 are expected Such a period as we are now ex- for the night meal. Although 255

The girls have meal tickets with numbers which are punched as they go through the line. One of the two lines in the cafeteria is held open for the Keeneland Hall girls for one-half hour. The girls are given a selective choice, novel because in most other University eating places a set menu is planned.

Between $300 and $800 is spent each day for food in the cafeteria. "This depends upon whether or not we have a banquet in the Blue Grass Room," said Barnes. Every kind of food in the SUB, even cokes, has to be bought through the cafeteria.

All the food used in the cafeteria is bought in town on a competitive basis. The Food Storage Center has charge of buying the food on a weekly basis. Most of the bread is baked in the cafeteria, while the milk comes from the University dairy.

Barnes has been director of the cafeteria since July, 1955. A native Barnes explained, "We would of Grant County, he graduated operate in the red if town people from the UK College of Agricul-

The only UK student spectators to attend the NCAA tourney at Iova City last week left a "good luck" notice to the victorious Iowans that was termed a "truly great act of sportsmanship."

E. T. Clements, Dave Cousins, and R. B. Lockhart, the UK trio attending the tournament, posted the following notice sign on a bulletin board at the State University

"To all loyal Iowans, you have beaten Kentucky by a nominal score, so we the tried and true supporters of the Cats believe that you will go all the way. If you do not though, you will be repre-sented in the Olympics by 'Sugar' (Carl Cain) who has been the nemesis of the best.

"If Sugar Cam and Bob Burrow and the other stalwarts of the greater teams of the U.S. play as the game Saturday night was played, then we will bring home the Gold Medal for the top honors from Melbourne (site of the Olympic games).

"So, good luck Hawkeyes in your pursuit of the NCAA title, and here's hoping you are the ones to beat San Francisco."

The Wildcat supporters' notice was reprinted in the S.U.I. student paper, The Daily Iowan. The president of South Quadrangle at the university wrote a letter to the three Kentuckians stating that almost every Iowa student had read

In the letter, the quad president said, "Most of them (the Iowa students), as I did, examine themselves to see if they would have made a similar gesture if they had been in the same situation.'

He concluded with this post script: "Best wishes to the & of K basketball team for next year. And to this year's team, good luck always, in all ways."

On the left, William Nock Colonna, B.S. in Business Administration, Virginia Polytechnic Institute, '52.

"Sales results...and something more"

Two and a half months after he began training with The Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Company of Maryland, Bill Colonna went into the army, spending a year in Korea.

"While in the service," Bill says, "I never thought of having to look for another job. I resumed my career in the telephone business as soon as I got back. What's more, my rate of pay was increased by crediting my time in the army.

"After training, I was promoted to Sales Manager in Salisbury, Md. I'm responsible for initiating, planning and coordinating sales activities in an area serving 50,000 customers in nine counties on the Eastern Shore of Maryland. I select and train men for my sales force, and help business office managers with their sales problems.

"Sales and marketing in the telephone business are growing more important every day. We've many new and different services to offer people. It's a job with scope, variety and challenge.

"Arranging for customers' communications requirements keeps me in touch with all departments of the company. These contacts add valuable experience that will always prove useful. I wanted a career that was broad and full of opportunities, and that's what I've got."

Bill Colonna is typical of the many young men who have interesting jobs in the telephone business. Career opportunities of many kinds exist in other Bell Telephone Companies, and in Bell Telephone Laboratories, Western Electric and the Sandia Corporation. KA's To Hold Cage Tourney This Weekend

Basketball is still in the air on the UK campus.

This weekend four Kentucky chapters of Kappa Alpha Order fraternity will hold a basketball tournament in Alumni Gym.

Starting tonight at 7 p.m. the UK chapter will play host to the Transylvania chapter. Following this game the KA's of Georgetown will meet the University of Louisville KA's.

Saturday afternoon the winners will meet for the tourney title. Harry Stille and Bob Martin, both of the UK Intramural Department, will officiate the games.

After the tournament, all four KA chapters will meet for a get-acquainted party.

A large trophy will be given to the winner of the tournament. Actually the winner will receive two trophies, one a rotating trophy that goes to the tourney title-holder each year, and the other will be a permanent trophy for each year's

To keep the rotating trophy, one chapter must capture the tournament three consecutive years.

This year's event is the first of its kind, but Jack Clore and Jimmy Flynn, KA's at UK who originated the idea, plan for the event to be an annual affair.

Good basketball is in store for spectators wishing to see the action as the UK chapter was runner-up in this year's fraternity basketball championships.

The boast such players as Flynn, Jim Farris, Short Saufley, and Billy Heinz.

Also the KA's at U. of L. were rated high in its intramural league.

Franta Sets Vault Record

By ROBERT SMITH

A new UK track record was set Saturday when pole vaulting freshman, Dave Franta, soared twelve feet six inches into the wild blue yonder.

Franta's mark, set at the Knights of Columbus meet in Cleveland, Ohio, eclipsed the ancient university mark of twelve feet three and five eighths inches set in 1925.

Setting this record however, proved to be only a disappointment for Franta since he had vaulted better than 13 feet while in high school.

In other events, Ray Blasingame, primarily a hurdler, but hindered by an ankle injury took to the 45 yard dash and qualified for the finals in a meet that featured such greats as Wes Santee.

The only other Wildcat participant at Cleveland, Jack Brown, just missed qualifying for the same event.

Coach Don Cash Seaton's charges bolstered with the addition of cagers Ray Mills, John Brewer, and Ed Beck, now look forward to a meet with the Morehead Eagles.

World War II started when Hitler's troops invaded Poland on Sept. 1, 1939.

"GO HOME KENTUCKY and take Adolph Rupp with you!" "Hey, you hillbillies, pack up and get out!" "Morehead, who's Morehead?" "Oh, just a bunch of southern hicks up here in the hallowed lands of Iowa."

These expressions and many more were typical of the hospitality given to UK and Morehead as they participated in the Midwest Regionals of the NCAA Basketball Tournament. If the North believes in equality Iowa hasn't heard about. Common courtesy halted in Iowa City when small bands of Bluegrass fans visited the little col- by the time the Cats meet them lege town. Up there everyone is equal-except Kentuckians!

Never have I witnessed such a lack of sportsmanship as was displayed by the Hawkeye crowd. When UK came onto the floor, rolls of toilet paper were hurled at the Wildcats. Programs were fired at Morehead players and the booing never ceased. The few foreigners seated in huge Iowa Field House received the same treatment. Cups filled with coke were thrown at the Kentucky spectators. The mayor of Morehead was splattered with a soft drink just because he was yell- against Florida in a three game ing for his team. Women received verbal abuses but could do little about it. How could 250 Kentuckians fight back against 15.000 Iowans? Yes, that was Iowa's welcome to Kentucky and Morehead close out their trip with a three in the NCAA.

To those few in the college community who tried to make our stay a pleasant one, we will always be grateful. But to the mobs of people who believe they are civilized we can only say . . . you had better think again!

UK Cheerleaders ought to send a letter of thanks to Morehead's pep group and cheerleaders. The Eagle gang went all out for the Wildcats, leading in yells, whooping it up, and trying to give UK a genuine backing it certainly missed.

TWO WILDCATS have been approached by the Harlem Globetrotters to play with them during an 18 day All-Star tour across the country. Bob Burrow has refused the invitation because of being a candidate in tryouts for the United States' Olympic Basketball Team. Jerry Bird hasn't made up his mind yet. Burrow, incidently, was an All-Tourney selection at Iowa City. Bird just missed making the first team as he placed sixth.
